With a background in paediatric nursing, Julie Anne Grasso spent many years literally wrapping children in cotton wool. Every day she witnessed great courage and resilience from the tiny people she cared for, which inspired her to write stories about a little girl elf just like them.

She has a degree in Nursing from Queensland University of Technology and has been published in her nerdy nursing specialty in medical journals, but her true love is writing about elf worlds that preferably involve some kind of dessert obsession.

She has an awesome husband who loves to do battle in the computer trenches every day and a 3 year old elf called Giselle.

Guilty or Not-Guilty? KEY

Name _____ Date _____

Possible answers, accept logical and correct responses.

 Miss Chestnut	Miss Chestnut gave a poisoned pie to Mr. Mulberry.	Not guilty as she didn't make the pie and did not want to hurt Mr. Mulberry. She wanted to impress him.
 Simon Le Mont	As pie baker, it seemed logical that he baked the poison pies. He had a cold and could not taste the pies himself.	Evan was the pie taster, and was giving him wrong information on purpose.
 Gardener Gary	Gary has time and opportunity to access the lemon grove and poison the lemons. The poison was on his work bench.	Gary desperately needed his job and had only been there a week. Giselle admitted to moving the poison to the work bench.
 Meredith	It would seem Meredith would want to own the lemon grove as she asked if it was a heritage site and could not be sold.	The reason she asked was she did not want it sold. She wanted the manor to stay as it was and did not own Everlasting Orchards.
 Evan	Evan was seen trying to put the poison container in the garbage and not the recycling and threatened Gary about his job.	Evan was thought to be the nephew of Mrs. Charles, but turned out to be the son of Peri and nephew of Mercure.
 Peri Stalsis	His spoon remained up at the tasting. He was the brother of Madame Mercure and the father of Evan.	Madame Mercure, Peri Stalsis, and Evan all conspired to purchase the lemon grove and thereby own Enderby Manor.
